

Relational Covenants

Behavioral Covenants—Holy Manners for a Faith Community: A behavioral covenant is a written document developed by leaders, agreed to and owned by its creators and practiced on a daily basis as a spiritual discipline. The Covenant answers the question, “How will we behave (how will we live together?) when we don’t understand each other and when we don’t agree?”

Guidelines for Loving Relationships and Values to Guide Our Interaction

Colossians 3:12-17, 1 Thessalonians 5:12-26

In the Reformed Church...

- We seek to build each other up and not tear down.
- We respect and honor the office of pastor and other lay leaders.
- We seek to communicate clearly, completely, and directly.
- We offer our opinions with charity and humility.
- We make positive investments in each other’s lives.
- We seek to discover what is best for our church as a whole, not what may be best for us or for some small group in the church.
- We accept disagreement, conflict and evaluation as normal and natural.
- We believe the best of each other and give each other the benefit of the doubt.
- We are committed to being inconvenienced for the gospel.
